STATE FAIR HOUSE

WITH the opening of the Indiana State Fair, Indianapolis, Indiana, in August 1946, Ball State opened its own exhibition building. The exterior walls of the chocolate-brown frame bungalow were decorated with huge B. S. T. C. seals in red and white. High over the roof was placed a sign reading "Ball State Teachers College."

Inside the bungalow were housed displays from the business education, music, art, social science, physical education, science, home economics, and industrial arts departments. The Ball State Library and Library Teaching Materials Service as well as Ball Memorial Hospital were represented.

Mr. Francis F. Brown, head of the college exhibits committee, was in charge of the Ball State Building. Members of the student body who greeted and talked with the visitors were: Angeline Rorris, James Keyt, and Constance Kettler. Adolf Kerber, sent by L. T. M. S., was in charge of a movie projection unit by which public movies were shown during fair week.

HEALTH SERVICE

THE Ball State Health Service, under the direction of Dr. Amelia T. Wood, cares for each member of the student body with preventive and educational measures. The yearly physical examination is followed by correctives so that the student may realize his best physically and emotionally.

The modern equipment available includes: short-wave diathermy, long-wave diathermy, ultra-violet, thermic and infra-red lamps, also simple hydrotherapy or contrast leg-baths.

Members of the staff at the Ball State Health Service are: Dr. Irvin Hostetter, assistant physician; Miss Grace Hilliard, nurse; Mrs. Ardis Lamb, nurse; and Mrs. Elizabeth Harrison, medical assistant.

HOME MANAGEMENT HOUSE

THE Home Management House, a residence just off the campus, was purchased during the summer of 1939. It is used as a practical laboratory in family living by home economics students. Each family group occupies the house for one term.

A baby obtained from a home or institution is always a member of the family group. This year Jama Lee, pictured above, was the honored member of the house.

The Home Management House is under the direction of Miss Theresa Schermer.

THE LIBRARY

Through the Loan Service last year approximately 96,000 items were charged to Ball State students and faculty. Many other materials not charged were used by library visitors at stack desks and in library rooms.

In the Technical Service all library materials are processed for use. Books and other materials are ordered and cataloged here, cards are prepared for the public catalog, and books and periodicals are prepared for and received from the bindery.

THE Ball State Teachers College Library is a modern center of recorded communications. It serves students and faculty through varied book and non-book resources. Rooms for study, reference service, recreational reading, and for preview, class, or individual use of films, recordings, and other non-book materials are provided. A graduate study room is available for the special use of graduate students engaged in research.

THE LIBRARY

The Reference Service is centered, at the present time, in the Reading Room on the main floor of the Library. Throughout each day and evening a fully-trained reference librarian is available to assist students in locating information.

In Teaching Materials Service are located the film library containing over 300 film titles, the picture files of over 20,000 mounted pictures, and other collections of illustrative teaching aids. These include such items as pottery, wood carvings, textiles, radio transcriptions, slides, maps, film strips, etc., which may be borrowed upon presentation of library card.

THE book stacks house approximately 85,000 volumes exclusive of Burriss Library titles and are open for use of students and faculty. On each of the three stack levels now in use, study carrels are conveniently placed for students who wish to work near the book shelves. Annual book accessions average approximately 4,000 volumes. Over 460 periodicals are received currently. The four service divisions of the Library are described in the accompanying pictures.

BURRIS SCHOOL

Dr. Earl A. Johnson, principal, has guided the activities and planning of Burris school so that it has become one of the outstanding and best-equipped schools in Indiana.

BOOK STORE

The Book Store, under the efficient management of Miss Ruth Kitchin, is still another service department of the college, supplying the students and faculty with many needs. The Book Store handles art and athletic supplies, stationery and greeting cards, college jewelry and emblems, books and textbooks, and almost any other supplies needed on campus.

Owned by the college, the Book Store is operated under the direction of the controller's office on a non-profit basis. It exists solely for the purpose of furnishing books and supplies to students at the lowest prices consistent with excellent service. In addition, the Book Store serves the college with its branch post office.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

PRESIDENT EMERITUS LEMUEL A. PITTENGER

PRESIDENT Emeritus L. A. Pittenger devoted many years of his life to the welfare and advancement of Ball State Teachers College. Under his guidance this school prospered and grew. This is one of the many reasons why the faculty and students of Ball State Teachers College will always love and cherish this splendid leader.

From Selma, Indiana, his home, Dr. Pittenger sent a message to the graduating seniors:

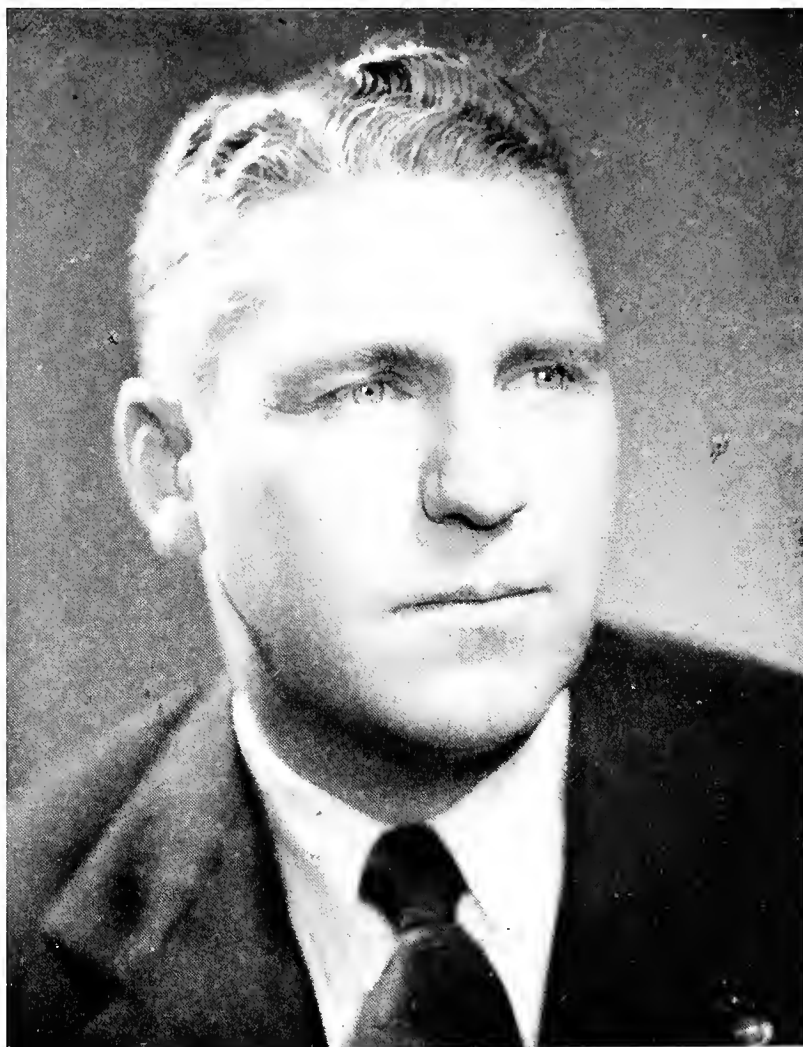

"The high hopes I had for education as a medium for social progress when I began teaching has had many a bump during the years I spent in the school room.

"But when I recall the many cases of inexperienced boys and girls developing into strong, useful leaders in their communities, my jostled hopes are reaffirmed.

"You face times that are out of joint, great movements whose destiny no one can accurately forecast, and a host of youth anxious to meet and overcome whatever challenges may face them.

"May your character, your education, and your courage never fail you in your efforts to teach boys and girls, for what you are and what you do bulk large in the making of their lives.

PRESIDENT JOHN R. EMENS

IN ONLY two years time President John R. Emens' vision, far-sighted energy, and wide scope of abilities have become an institution at Ball State Teachers College. The college's program has extended more widely into many fields, such as the alumni, and into the national picture with President Truman's appointment of Dr. Emens to a national educational committee post. Nevertheless, as evidenced by the president's convocation this year, Dr. Emens is a students' and faculties' president just as readily as he is a college president to the local and national community.

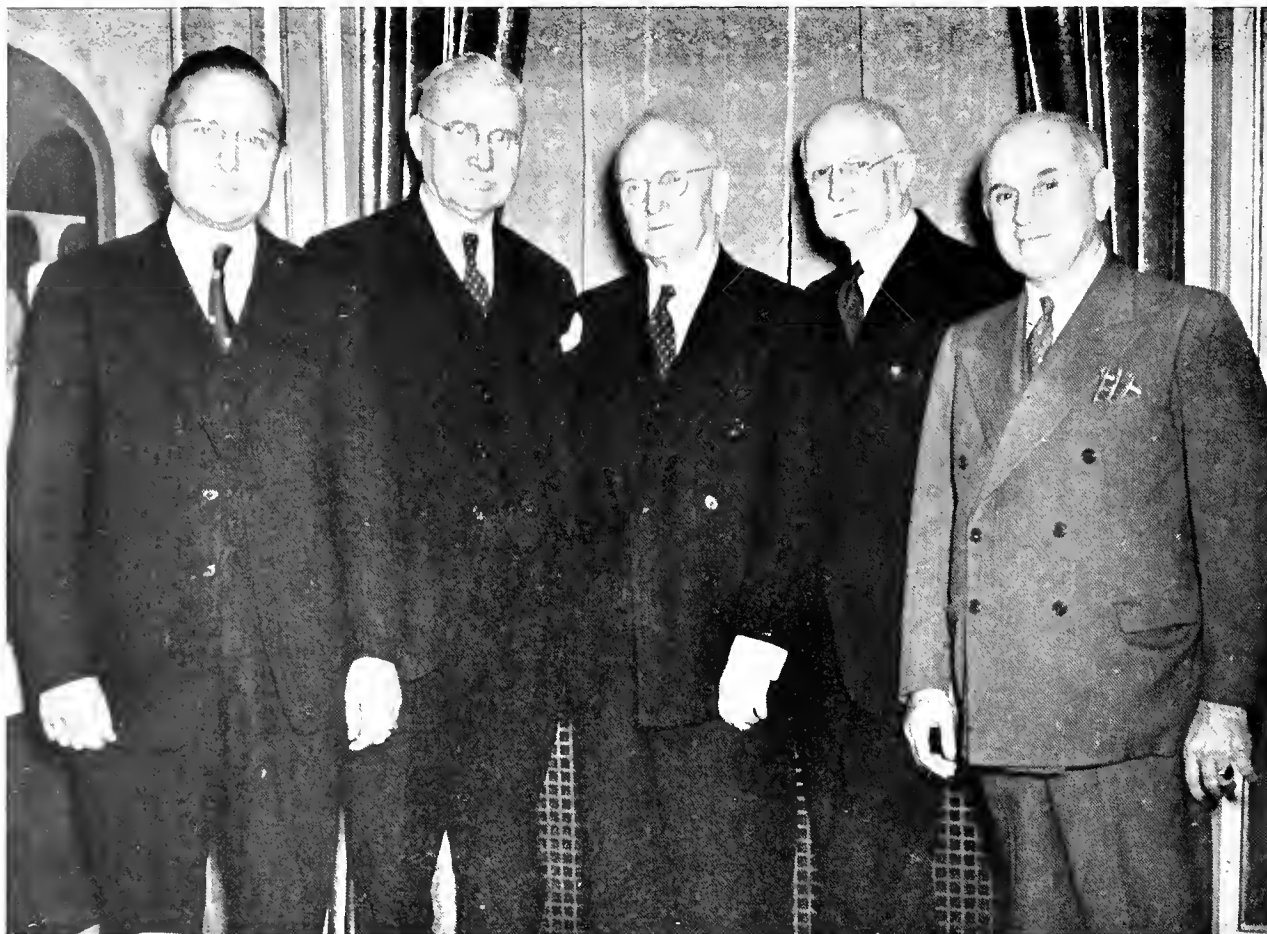

President Emens sends this message to graduating seniors:

"Graduates:

"Thresholds are challenges: Graduation is a threshold. As you glance backward over the period of your years of college education, you glimpse a period fraught with many difficulties and many achievements—including a world war, the atomic bomb, the returning veterans, crowded college campuses, and the preliminary steps toward world peace and the United Nations.

"The look ahead presents challenges to teachers, nurses, and other professional workers, as well as to all citizens! We hope that you face these opportunities and responsibilities with courage and stamina, and that you will bring respect and honor to yourselves and to your Alma Mater, Ball State.

"Sincerely,
"John R. Emens."

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE BOARD

THE State Teachers College Board, appointed by the governor of the state of Indiana, serves Ball State Teachers College and Indiana State Teachers College. A sound, progressive policy sponsored by the board has developed a steady growth in high educational standards for these colleges.

The members of the State Teachers College Board are, left to right: Mr. Robert M. Critchfield of Anderson, president; Mr. William F. Cronin of Terre Haute, secretary; Mr. John H. Heller of Decatur, assistant secretary; Mr. George A. Ball of Muncie, vice-president; and Mr. Clement T. Malan of Indianapolis who is the past ex-officio member. Mr. Ben H. Watt of Indianapolis is now serving as ex-officio member of the board.

SENIOR

DICK DONOVAN
President

THIS final year, 1946-47, has been the best year in the life of the senior class under the able guidance of its officers: Dick Donovan, president; Mary Lois Farmer, secretary; Lois Hageman, treasurer. Campus life is back to normal after the war, those who lived here as military personnel are back in civilian life, those who left this campus for service are back, and the people here are preparing for living.

The 1947 class began its freshman year with a successful class party, and repeated its success with an all-school party during its sophomore year. The most triumphant production of the class, when it was the junior class, was the excellent "Blueberry Street," Junior Follies production with music written by a member of the class. The Prom last year was a happy experience for this class and the whole school, because it was the first prom on campus since 1943.

This year, "The Last Fling," was the descriptive title of the last senior dance. There are the senior activities . . . and now, the Orient.

JUNIOR CLASS

1946-1947, a big year for the juniors as they prepare to enter their last year at Ball State! Although this class is one of the smallest, it is one of the most active of the classes.

The Junior Prom always highlights the year's activities for the junior class. The Queen and her attendants were chosen by an all-campus vote from a selection of ten girls.

"Who is Junior Follies?" That mystery was solved when the class presented the annual production, Junior Follies. This unique production with special music was written and directed by members of the class.

The year came and went, bearing with it junior conyo, class meetings, parties, and the other activities which helped prepare the juniors for their greatest year — their senior year!

FOOTBALL

Two hundred candidates answered Coach John Magnabosco's call for the gridiron sport last fall and from this nucleus Maggie fashioned a squad that won three, lost four, and tied one. Injuries and bad breaks plagued the 1946 gridders all season and had Dame Fortune smiled on the Cards a time or two in critical moments, the record might well have been different.

Against Canterbury's Warriors in the opening game of the season the Red Birds piled up a 27 to 6 victory. Ball State scored twice in the first three minutes of play. Bill King, husky right tackle, recovered a Warrior miscue behind the goal line on the first play of the game; and a few seconds later recovered another fumble to set up Dick Valandingham's twenty-yard touchdown thrust. Other red and white markers were added by Fred Keho and Walt Molinder. Bob Rhoda made three of four tries from placement.

Bowling Green's Falcons upset the Cardinal football team the following Saturday, trouncing the Magnaboscomen, 13 to 0. It was a case of too many, too big, for the Cards who came limping out of the fray with four backs and four linemen on the injured list. The Ohio squad was rated by many as the strongest football team ever to take the field against a Ball State eleven. Bowling Green counted both of their markers in the first half and a Cardinal aerial thrust in the second quarter, Bob Rhoda to Hank Rosa, was halted on the Falcon four-yard line.

Homecoming was the biggest and best ever at Ball State this year, but Wabash's Little Giants tossed a monkey wrench into the Cardinal grid machine as they won out in a closely contested contest, 6 to 0.

The Crawfordsville crew thoroughly outplayed the Cards in the first two periods and set up their scoring play on a stolen ball from a Cardinal backfield man. The Redbirds showed considerable improvement in their second half play and the final gun found Bill Spencer on the Wabash three-yard line.

With their Homecoming spoiled somewhat by the Wabash loss, the Cards journeyed to Valparaiso determined to wreak havoc with the Crusader Homecoming, and they did just that, handing the hosts a 20 to 6 beating. Mike Hoffman, Dick Riser, and Jud Robinett crossed the Valpo goal line and Bob Rhoda counted two extra points from placement.

Injuries struck, and struck hard at the red and white the following Saturday as the Cards bowed to Butler 20 to 6. The Redbird running attack seemed to go well in midfield but stiffened Bulldog resistance halted them just inside the 20-yard line.

Bob Rhoda's injured side kept him out of the ball game until the final five minutes when he began to fill the air with passes, finally connecting with Fordy Anderson for the only Ball State score.

Against Manchester's Spartans the Cards brought to life their latent scoring punch and pushed over six touchdowns and five extra-points for a 41 to 6 win. The Cards defense held the North Manchester boys to a minus 21 yards from scrimmage by rushing, and the Spartans took to the air to complete seven of 21 attempted passes. Ball State touchdowns were divided among Jud Robinette, Dick Randolph, Walt Molinder, Dick Riser, and Gene Dance (2). Extra points were added by Bob Rhoda (2), Mike Patanelli, Robinett, and Dick Mick.

Ball State played one of its finest games of the season against Michigan Normal, but had to settle for a 7 to 7 tie with the Hurons. The Redbirds scored their only marker in the second period when Jud Robinett dropped back to his own 47 yard line, found all receivers covered, and ran all the way behind excellent down field blocking for the tally. Rhoda added the try for placement. The Ypsilanti lads were still down 7 to 0 going into the final quarter when an intercepted Ball State pass set up the 76 yard touchdown drive that was capped by the tying extra point.

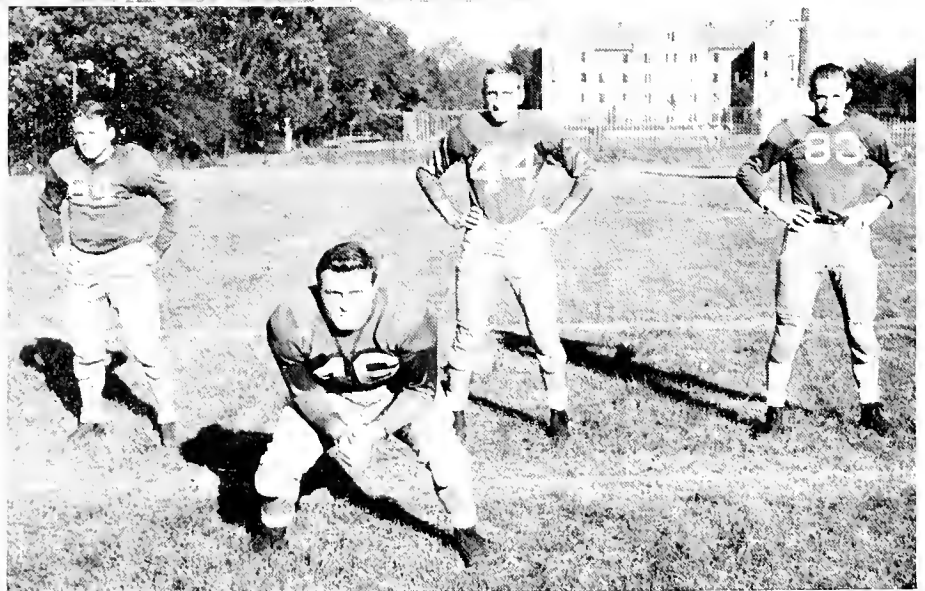

Indiana State, who hadn't laid eyes on the Victory Bell for six long years, recovered the cracked relic that is a symbol of gridiron supremacy between the two schools in a hectic battle waged in the mud and quagmire of Memorial Field at Terre Haute, 3 to 0. The winning Sycamore's margin was provided by an eleven yard field goal by Bob Chester in the final three minutes of play.

One play earlier Chester had tried a field goal from the 16-yard stripe but had failed, a Ball State off-side penalty gave him another chance from closer in and he split the uprights.

The starting lineup throughout most of the season included Mike Patanelli and Bill Lynch at ends; Jim Stone and Bill King at tackles; Jack Morgan and Jack Niksch, Mike Rodich, or Al Peidmont at guards; Ed Langas at center; Fordy Anderson, Walt Molinder, or Gene Dance at quarterback; Dick Donovan, Bob Rhoda, or Dick Valandingham at tailback; Jud Robinette at fullback, and Bill Spencer, Mike Hoffman, or Fred Kehoe at right half.

Pat Barley, Gene Little, and Dick Barr were lost most of the season because of injuries received in early season.

Mike Patanelli was almost a unanimous choice as an All-Conference end and Jim Stone and Bill King split the All-State honors at the tackle post. Fordy Anderson, quarterback, was mentioned on the Indianapolis News third team.

CROSS COUNTRY

First row: Don Shryock, D. Stevens, Dave Rankin, Phil Leach, Kenny Seibert, A. Andrews, Bob Johnson, Phil Bruch, and Doug Clark.

Second row: Manager Mondell, George Reavis, Dick Williams, Ralph Broaman, Charles Brown, Jack Sexton, Alfred Smith, C. H. Bronnenburg, Jim Wallis, and Coach Paul B. Williams.

Third row: Jim Swinford, Bill Weigel, George Turner, Paul Everitt, Sam Norris, and John Cooper.

DALL STATE'S cross country team finished the most successful season in history this year by tying with Butler for the Little State title in a meet run off simultaneously with the Big State meet. The Cards and Bulldogs wound up with 44 points apiece followed by Anderson, Earlham and Indiana Central in that order.

Jim Swinford, sophomore distance ace for the Cards, added the Little States cross country title to his already acquired two-mile championship by finishing ninth in the Big State meet. Running with Swinford on the championship team were Charles Brown, Ralph Broaman, Jack Sexton, Alfred Smith, George Turner and Bill Weigel.

The Cards defeated Bowling Green, Wabash, Indiana State, DePauw and Earlham in dual competition and their lone loss was to Butler over the Fairview course.

BASKETBALL

BASKETBALL

A record turnout of some two hundred and fifty net candidates answered Coach Ardith L. "Pete" Phillips's call for the hardwood sport last fall and the Ball State cage mentor had the number narrowed down to forty-five before the season's opener at Notre Dame.

The Cardinals ran into a hornet's nest at the South Bend fieldhouse and were stung 80 to 31 by the Irish cagers who hit from all angles almost at will. Coach Ed Krause's netters led at the half 43 to 23 and increased that lead after the intermission. Kelvin O'Shea and Leo Barnhorst led the Notre Dame onslaught and Fred Riley was outstanding for Ball State.

In their first home game of the season the Cards entertained Canterbury. The local netters trailed the Warriors until, with three minutes remaining in the ball game, Bob Straight knotted the count at 48-all. A free throw sent Canterbury back into the lead again but Riley's fielder gave the Cards a lead that was extended by Francis Allen's two-pointer. Hanson of the Canterbury five threw in another fielder for the Warriors in the final minute of action, but the game ended with Ball State on top 52 to 51.

DePauw's Tigers came to the Cardinal goal house in early December and outlasted the Phillipsmen 65 to 54. Both teams played on even terms throughout the first half with DePauw leading 32-30 at the midway mark. The red and white offense hogged down considerably in the second half as they counted but three fielders in the first sixteen minutes of the final period. Bill Emly and Bill Walton led the Green-castle attack with fifteen points apiece and Francis Allen paced the locals with eighteen.

The Cards locked horns with Manchester in the next engagement and the Redbirds edged out their hosts 35 to 33. The contest remained close throughout but was marred by the fact that neither team could hit from the floor or the foul line. Allen led the visitors with fourteen tallies. In a Christmas holiday swing through Illinois and Wisconsin the Cards split even in two contests, losing to Northern Illinois 48 to 37 and blasting Milwaukee State 73 to 42.

Gene Lillie was the only Cardinal player able to find the range against the Illinois team, but in the Milwaukee game Allen and Marvin Heaton poured in twenty-one and twenty-four points respectively. Milwaukee sports scribes acclaimed the Ball State five as one of the best small college teams ever to appear there.

The Cardinal marksmen leveled their siege guns at DePauw in an early January return engagement, and the Redbirds threw a real scare into the Tiger camp before bowing to the ascending Indiana Conference champions, 55 to 49. Harry Allison and Allen were outstanding for Ball State while Emily and Red Gardner were the shining lights for the Tigers.

Wabash's sharpshooting cagers handed the Cardinal five a 61-to-40 shellacking as the Little Giants hit from all angles for a very respectable .329 average from the field while the locals were able to garner a lean .176 from the floor. Clonc and Kennedy tossed in thirty points between them for scoring honors while Allen added fifteen for Ball State.

A rejuvenated, fast-breaking Cardinal five surprised Earlham in the next engagement, at Trueblood fieldhouse, defeating the Quakers 51 to 31. The Earlham five netted but three field goals in the final frame and were no match for the Ball State ball-of-fire. Heaton and Bob Hecter paced the winners with seventeen and fourteen points respectively.

Ball State's reserves had a hand in the 50-to-45 licking handed the Franklin Grizzlies as eleven of the Cardinal players broke into the scoring column. The locals were on top 25 to 24 at half-time, and the furious second-half battle found the lead changing hands four times and the score tied on six occasions.

A second-half flurry of baskets sunk the Cardinal victory ship at Miami when the host quintet grabbed a 29-to-28 lead with one minute of play remaining in the first half and never relinquishing their lead to win, going away, 70 to 53.

1946-47 BASKETBALL SQUAD

Ed Ball and Howard Sanders paced the Ohio five with seventeen markers apiece, while Heaton was high for the Cards with eleven.

Redbirds were paired against Redbirds when Illinois Normal came to Ball Gym, but our "Birds" came home first with a 45-to-39 win over the Illinois five. The Ball State defense held Frank Olivieri, all-Illinois forward, scoreless throughout the first half, but he came back to bag seven field goals in the second period. Heaton's thirteen points were high for the locals.

Ball State trailed Franklin 37 to 31 going into the second half of the game played in the Grizzly cigar box and were unable to catch the red-hot downstaters who were paced by guard Red Lewis, who personally accounted for thirty-two of the 77 markers chalked up by Franklin as against 65 amassed by Ball State.

The Cardinals were host to Earlham in a return engagement in early February in an erratic contest which found passes and shots alike landing in the bleachers. The Cards were credited with a 47-to-35 win.

As if to compensate for their poor showing against the Quakers, the Phillipsmen turned on their best effort of the season to demolish thoroughly Michigan Normal 73 to 32. Twenty men entered the fray in Cardinal livery and Allison copped scoring honors with sixteen counters.

The locals journeyed to Danville for a return engagement with Jim Springer and Company and Allison's last-minute fielder gave the visitors a 43-to-41 victory. Springer's eighteen points were high for the evening while Allison's seventeen were tops for the winners.

The Cardinal crew suffered an attack of missitus in the season finale against Manchester and lost out 48 to 45. Ball State just couldn't hit at any time during the ball game, and only accuracy from the charity stripe kept them within range of the Spartans.

In conference competition the Cards won six and dropped five, while their over-all summary showed nine wins and eight losses. This year's team was handicapped considerably by a lack of experience, but the all-underclassmen squad should greatly improve in next year's competition.

Harry Allison, Shelbyville sophomore, received honorable mention on the coaches' all-Indiana conference team sponsored by the Indianapolis Star.

ATHLETIC COMMITTEE

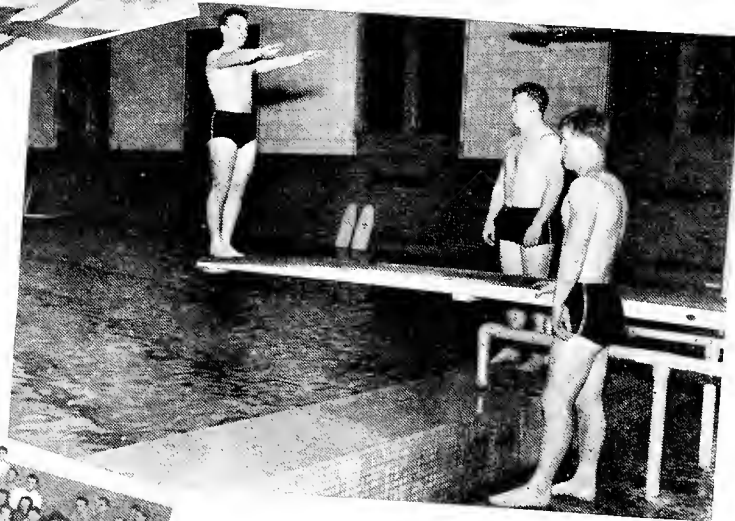

THE guiding hand behind the athletic teams of Ball State is the Athletic Committee. The Committee sees to it that the ethics of sports are maintained at a high level, determines eligibility of athletes, makes awards, gives sweaters, appropriates funds, and outlines policies that keep our teams on friendly athletic terms with competing schools.

BALL STATE was represented in the swimming lanes of the state this year for the first time since 1942. Coach John Lewellen's mermen failed to win a single meet, but met some of the best swimmers in the middle west and twice raced against Huntington Y. M. C. A.'s national champions.

Consistent scorers for Ball State throughout the season were Gene Dance, Don Howell, and Danny Maddox in diving; Charles Maddox, Jesse Rains, Bob Dodds, Hank Young, Charles Porter, and Richard Schmidt in the sprints; and Ed Hoffer, Lloyd Moore, George Reavis, Roy Tussy, and Bill Davis in the distances.

BASEBALL

UPWARDS of one hundred candidates reported to Coach Paul B. Williams this spring, and the Cardinal mentor found the diamond overflowing with some of the best talent to appear in his twenty-four years of guiding Ball State baseball squads.

Sixteen lettermen were among the hopefuls vying for berths on this year's nine, among which were pitchers Walt Molinder, Bill Waddell, and Ralph Bushey. Erstwhile portsider Charlie Marcus early showed a prowess at the plate that won him a starting outfield berth.

Veteran infielders returning were Harry Allison, Marvin Heaton, and Harry Fullerton at first; Charley Posey and Joe Harvey at second; Waldo Sauter at shortstop; and Oz Wiebusch at third. Jim Rousch, who held down the hot corner position on last year's nine, was shifted behind the plate to aid Donie Havens, reserve on the '46 squad, whose hustle and defensive ability won him a starting backstop job.

Four lettermen, in addition to Marcus, were battling it out for the outfield berths in midseason with Bob Rhoda and Ray Gilbert being pushed hard for a starting position by Paul Elliott, John Cooper, and Bill Albrecht.

Newcomers who forced their way into the lineup before midseason were Tom Morris in the outfield and Mike Hoffman and Dick Brainard in the infield.

The Cards lived up to advance billing and copped three tilts in a row before bowing to Bowling Green 2-0 in one of the best-played ball games in Ball State history. Husky Walt Molinder limited the Falcons to five bingles in that contest, but the Ohio crew bunched them in the seventh and eighth innings while the same number of Cardinal hits were well scattered over the nine-inning route.

Molinder also received credit for the 10-3 win over Earlham in the season's opener and the 7-6 victory over Wabash. Bill Waddell attained an early victory over DePauw, 8-3, as he set the Bengals down with five hits as his mates were garnering ten, and also was credited for the 16-to-4 win over Anderson's Ravens.

Oz Wiebusch was the big gun of the Cardinal offensive attack in early season play, batting over .400 in the first five games, scoring nine runs, and batting in an additional twelve markers.

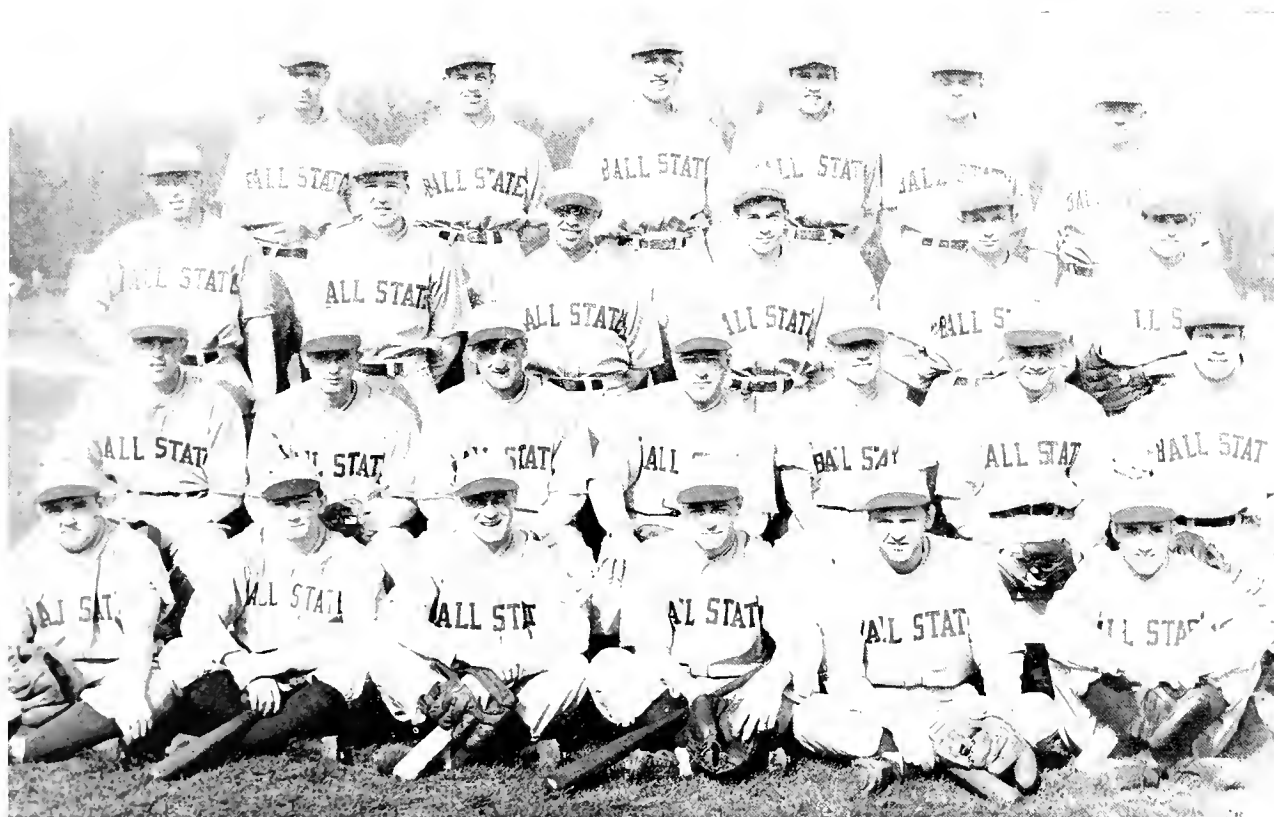

BASEBALL TEAM

Fourth row: Ernie Hurt, Tom Morris, Harry Allison, Bill Albrecht, Joe Harvey, and Coach Paul B. Williams.

First row: Jake Siebold, Kenny Sieber, John Brickley, Bill Peterson, and Charles James.
Second row: Coach Pete Phillips, Ray McKinley, Jack Sexton, Bob Tyner, George Herbert, and Dick Pendley.

TENNIS

TENNIS Coach A. L. "Pete" Phillips' racqueteers found themselves with rather large shoes to fill this spring as the last two net teams, the '42 and '46 squads, were championship aggregations.

Back from the '42 team was Bill Peterson, who played in the No. 1 spot this year. John Brickley, Charles James, Jack Sexton, and Hiram Holbrook rounded out the singles squad in that order, Peterson and Brickley and Tyner and James teaming up in doubles competition.

The Card netters opened the season with an 8-1 win over Earlham; dropped a close one to DePauw, 3-4; were edged out by I.U.'s tennis squad 4-5, and rebounded to hand Indiana State's netmen their first defeat in the past two years, 4-3. With the arrival of good weather, the courtmen constantly improved and promised to be in top form for the State Meet at Earlham in mid-May.

TRACK

COACH John Magnabosco's track men, not to be outdone by the performance of the diamond squad, turned in one of the most successful seasons in Cardinal track annals. The red and white thinly-clads were unbeaten in dual competition and suffered their only setback at a triangular meet with Butler and Canterbury. The Bulldogs came off winners in that meet with $87\frac{1}{2}$ points to the Cards' $63\frac{1}{2}$, leaving the remaining 14 to the Warriors.

Leading the 1947 squad with Little State two-mile champion Jim Swinford, who continued unbeaten in his specialty, and also added valuable points in the one-mile run. Pressing Swinford for individual running honors was Bob Rodgers, one of the state's outstanding half-milers. In the weight events, Jim Murphy added a multitude of points with an assortment of firsts in the shot put, javelin, and discus.

The Cardinal track coach found himself with a surplus of good quarter-milers, and from them fashioned a mile relay squad that twice lowered the school record for that event. Against Indiana State at Gerstmeyer Tech field, Fred Randall, Charley Hilton, Gene Lillie, and Bob Rodgers lowered the seventeen-year-old record 1.7 seconds to 3:30.7, and two weeks later, against DePauw, with Dick Williams running in the place of Hilton, the quartet dropped it down to 3:29.0.

Leading point-gatherers through the season for the Cards in their events were:

Dashes: Don Shryock, Dave Locke, and Charley Hilton.

Hurdles: Bill McClain and George Dietrich.

Quarter Mile: Fred Randall and Gene Lillie.

Half Mile: Bob Rodgers and Dick Williams.

Distances: Jim Swinford, Carlton Wiseman, Charley Brown, Alfred Smith, Leo Stevens, and Ralph Broaman.

Pole Vault: Earl Arnold, George Price, and Jud Robinette.

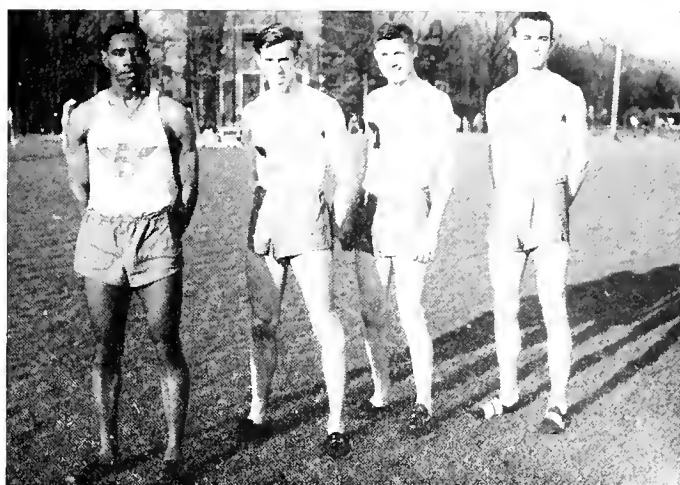

High Jump: Veryl Smith, Fred Randall, and Jack Washburn.

Broad Jump: Nick Luketic and Washburn.

INTRAMURALS

INTRAMURAL sports reached a new high in participation this year as the over-all program covered touch-football, bowling, volleyball, archery, handball, table tennis, basketball, tennis, softball, and track. Alf W. Harter of the men's physical education department served as director of all intramural activities.

Highlight of the intramural season was the thirty-six team basketball tourney played off in January. The Triangle fraternity team won the team championship to wind up the season undefeated in nine league and four tournament games. Runnersup were the Mugwamps, also a league winner, who were outlasted in the final game, 54-42. Lyle Harding led the winners in the final game with twenty points.

Softball occupied a high spot in the past year's intramural program with several teams still battling for supremacy in mid-May. An outgrowth of last year's intramural program was the Ball State Vets squad which advanced to the quarterfinals in the Delaware County tourney.

THE Women's Athletic Association, sponsored by Miss Martha Char-nock and assisted by Miss Cecile Gil- bert, offers a broad program of extra- curricular activities which includes hockey, softball, tennis, archery, bas- ketball, dancing, and tumbling.

Individual sports heads are selected in each of the WAA major and minor sports, and these heads have charge of organizing, directing, and supervising the play.

One of the WAA features of the year is the annual Gingham Hop where, according to custom, the members of WAA dress as boys and bring "dates" who are not members.

In conjunction with Y.W.C.A., the Y.M. sponsored the all-school and freshmen mixers and the "B" Book.

Members attended several conferences and council meetings during the year. They visited the national meeting at Illinois University and the Indiana state Y.M. convention, among others.

Ball State was represented on the state student committee by President John Emens and Dean Orvin Richardson, and on the state student council by Don Howell.

MUSIC for all home football games was provided by the Band along with formation shows between halves, and band members made the trip with the team to Terre Haute. They also played at most of the basketball games. The Band was prominent in the Homecoming parade and pep session.

One of the finest events of the year for the Band was the Convocation Concert held this year on March 5. They performed in a radio program on the third of March. The last and most impressive concert given by this organization annually is the Commencement Concert, held on June 3 this year.

Although the Band is a service organization both to the college and the community, it is a campus departmental association, also.

THE "B" Club is an organization of lettermen in the various varsity sports. Athletes who earn a letter in any of the varsity sports automatically become members of the "B" Club. The club, sponsored by the physical education department, exists in order to promote the spirit of good fellowship and equality among athletes in the various sports. Steller activities of the year are the annual spring banquet and the presentation of "B" blankets to all graduating seniors.

This year the "B" men sponsored the "Blanket Hop," having "Chuck" Smith and his Indiana University Orchestra. This dance was given on November 9, following the last home football game of the year. Also this year, the "B" Club edited and initiated the sale of colorful programs at all home football games.

The members of the club cooperated in selling cokes after the home basketball games and succeeded in helping to make enough money to buy "B" blankets for graduating seniors. The sponsors of the "B" Club include Mr. Paul B. Williams, Mr. John Magnabosco, Mr. A. L. Phillips, and the presiding member, Mr. John Lewellen.

AMONG the many activities during the past year in the life of this organization, two are outstanding. The members provided entertainment, recreational and educational, for the children at the Delaware County Children's Home on the Yorktown Pike.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION CLUB

THEY divided into groups of three-to-five girls who went to the Home on Saturday mornings, taking movies and providing such other activities as drawing, cutting, pasting, and handicraft. This was an all-year activity.

The second outstanding activity of the club was their aid in Elementary Education Day held on March 29. Elementary Club members helped in many ways for the day, not only in planning, but by acting as guides, hostesses in rooms, and general hostesses. The club also sponsored a tea in the Burris recreation room during the year.

BIOLOGY CLUB

OFFICERS

President — Betty Leuenberger
Vice-president — Mary Dice
Secretary-Treasurer — Mary Frances Riggs

SPONSOR

Dr. Donald E. Miller

THE activities for Biology Club for the year were the annual fall picnic, a tour through Ball Hospital laboratory, discussions of term papers written by students on current subjects, a Christmas party, a spring field trip, and the planting of a tree on Arbor Day.

CHOIR

OFFICERS

President — Gerhard Nieman
 Vice-president — Susan Habien
 Librarian — Alice Schaeffer

THE college choir of sixty-five chosen voices enjoyed a successful season under the leadership of Lemuel Anderson who is new on the campus this year.

In addition to appearing several times locally, the choir visited neighboring communities. The highlight of the season was the annual spring concert which included a variety of selections from the religious repertoire and modern classics, the most notable being the "Songs of Conquest" of Harl McDonald.

COMMERCE CLUB

OFFICERS

President — Joe Bell
Vice-president — Doris Ring
Secretary — Wilmuth Hill
Treasurer — J. Mark Love

SPONSORS

Dr. M. E. Studebaker
Dr. V. H. Carmichael
Dr. R. S. Burkhart
Mr. E. B. Gaunt
Miss Frances Botsford

THE aims of Commerce Club are to further the educational knowledge of the students, to create and maintain an interest in current trends and personalities in the field of business education, and to promote fellowship among students and faculty. Through its funds, the club helps to sponsor the Ball State Commerce Journal. Social and professional aspects are included in the club's program.

Supper parties, picnics, short talks by business people from local concerns in Muncie, and the Dry Night Club, open to the entire student body, made up this year's program. At the annual Christmas party, gifts were donated by members and in turn given to needy children.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUB

OFFICERS

President — Joe Bell
 Vice-president — Bob Thomas
 Secretary-Treasurer — Bob Wray

SPONSOR

Dr. Fred Schmidt
 Mr. Henry Loats
 Mr. Oliver Bumb

THE PURPOSES of the Industrial Arts Club are to develop wider professional interests in industrial arts and to provide opportunities for fellowship and social life between students and faculty.

The monthly meetings of the Club were varied by supper parties, lectures, exhibits, and guest parties. Two of the year's outstanding programs consisted of lectures on "Color Dynamics" and "Industrial Arts of the Future" by specialists in these fields. A farewell party in honor of Professor Orville Sink, retiring head of the department, climaxed the year's activities.

GEOGRAPHY CLUB

OFFICERS

President — Dale Green

Secretary — Jacquelyn Little

Vice-president — George Beatty

Treasurer — Jacquelyne Hurst

SPONSOR

Dr. Floy Hurlbut

THE PROGRAM for the geography Club's monthly meetings this year has been that of having the foreign students on campus discuss their own countries with the aid of movies and pictures. Purely social meetings are held three times during the year.

GEOGRAPHY CLUB

THE GEOGRAPHY CLUB sponsored a convocation featuring Dr. William Van Royen, an economic geographer, who is a native of the Netherlands. He is a member of the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., and chairman of the Geography Department at the University of Maryland.

KALLISTA ART CLUB

OFFICERS

President — Joe Marsh Treasurer — Doris Horning
 Vice-president — James Mattingly Publicity — Jean Lung
 Secretary — Mary Frances Riggs

SPONSOR

Mr. Francis Brown Miss Susan M. Trane

KALLISTA is a Greek word meaning perfection and ideal beauty. Under the supervision of Miss Susan M. Trane, head of the art department, this club was organized in April, 1923, to further creative and cultural art projects on the Ball State campus.

Among the club's many activities for the year were the fall picnic, the annual Christmas party held at Mr. Brown's home, lectures, demonstrations, conferences, and the annual art auction in which all the art students participated. Mr. Brown serves as auctioneer at the annual auction.

LIBRARY SCIENCE CLUB

OFFICERS

President — June Hannah
Vice-president — Marjorie Hardwick
Secretary-Treasurer — Frieda Reed Konig

SPONSOR

Miss Marian Grady
Miss Grace E. Brandt

THE Library Science Club was organized April 13, 1946. The purposes of the club are: to promote interest in the field of library science, to create closer relationship among those interested in the library field, and to keep members aware of the recent trends in library work. Membership is open to any student enrolled in library science classes, or to any others interested in library work.

The programs for the year consisted of discussions of library interests and problems, book reviews, library instruction by means of films, talks on education, and a panel discussion by school librarians. A special project was a news sheet, the Library Newsette, edited by Joan Kean and Doris Edrington. A social function was held at the close of the year.

LIBRARY COUNCIL

OFFICERS

President — Annabelle Little
Vice-president — Doris Ring
Secretary-Treasurer — Vera Humbert

THE LIBRARY COUNCIL consists of librarians and student assistants. The members enjoy the social life the council affords away from their regular work in the Library.

THE SUBJECT of study of the Social Science Club for the year was "Federated World Government." Programs consisting of panel discussions, films, and group discussions were presented.

The major project of the organization was the sponsorship of the Indiana Social Studies Quarterly, the official organ of the Indiana Council for the Social Studies.

STUDENT FEDERALISTS

OFFICERS

President — S. Joseph Wodka
Vice-president — George Meguiar
Secretary-Treasurer — Marilou Conner

SPONSOR

Dr. Robert LaFollette
Dr. L. J. Scheidler

THE Student Federalists on Ball State campus was organized in December, 1946, as a part of the international student federalist movement to promote world federal government in our time. This organization was known as Student Federalists until the Asheville Convention in February, 1947, when it merged with other groups of similar purpose to become the student group of the United World Federalists.

On March 10, 1947, a radio program, written and directed by Charles Sutton, was presented on the topic "An Approach to World Government." During the year, members spoke before students at Earlham College and before civic and campus groups at Ball State.

MADRIGAL CLUB

OFFICERS

President — Sara E. Garner
Vice-president — Dorothy Cruze
Librarian — Crystal Gaiser

MADRIGAL CLUB is under the direction and sponsorship of Miss Juanita Brumfiel. A tradition of the club is that members appear in pastel formals for all public performances. Girls on campus who are interested and are qualified to sing with the group are eligible for membership.

This year, Madrigal participated in "The Messiah," presented convocations, and gave a spring concert. The club was also featured in a radio broadcast presented over WLBC.

MUSIC CLUB

OFFICERS

President — Jean Taylor
 Vice-president — Phyllis Shuman
 Secretary — Ardyce Gimple
 Treasurer — Martha Lou Maier

MUSIC CLUB acts as an intermediary body between the music department and the student body. This year's program consisted of parties and the formation of the nucleus for the opera workshop. It has been a tradition for Music Club to produce a musical called "Campus Chords" every spring. This year the opera workshop gave an operetta, "The Student Prince."

SPOTLIGHT

OFFICERS

President — Geraldine Lantz Secretary — Marilyn Downing
Vice-president — Ruby Schram Treasurer — Bill Spurgeon

SPONSOR

Mr. Edward Strother

AN ENLARGED program in comparison with the past several years was tried this year by Spotlight. This program has been fulfilled successfully by hard and constant work.

To enable students to get acquainted with the stage, one-act plays were given during the fall quarter which afforded build-up to the three productions, "The Beautiful People," "Our Town," and "Western Union, Please." Variety was seen in these productions: new, old, and farce.

Work did not stop with Spotlight productions. Many members gave their time and services to the Speech Bureau and to the technical work on the musical production, "The Student Prince."

NEWMAN CLUB

OFFICERS

President — Paul J. Schrader
Vice-president — Francis M. Brown
Secretary — Ruth Ann Lauer
Treasurer — Geraldine Lantz

SPONSOR

Dr. Lawrence J. Scheidler
Mrs. Evelyn F. Garvey
Miss Dorothy Lucke

NEWMAN CLUB is an organization for the fellowship and unity of all Catholic students on campus. Father Muller of St. Mary's Parish is the chaplain of the club.

Programs for the year have been of both a social and a serious nature. Delegates from the club, ranking second in number of representatives in a visiting delegation, attended the Ohio Valley Province of Newman Club Convention at Purdue University.

The year's program has been a successful one, including a hayride and weiner roast, Christmas party, ice-skating party, Communion breakfast, and talks by Dr. Lawrence J. Scheidler and Lieutenant Al Guzzi of the Muncie Juvenile Delinquency Board.

W. A. A.

OFFICERS

President — Marjorie Miller
 Vice-president — Annabelle Little
 Secretary — Mildred Marcus
 Recording Sec'y — Margaret Thompson
 Treasurer — Jeanne Hower

THE Women's Athletic Association was created in 1924 to promote good fellowship among the women of the college by fostering an interest in leisure-time activities. Among the outstanding social events for W. A. A. this year was the "Dog Trot," annual picnic for all freshmen girls and W. A. A. members. The "Dog Trot" was successfully held on West Campus; however, there were no hot dogs — meat rationing.

The "Ginger Hop," another annual event, took place in February with Ezebelle Starke winning as "wild woman," and Ruth Van Duerson as the typical "dog patch resident."

W. A. A.

SPONSORS

Miss Martha Charnock
Miss Cecile Gilbert
Miss Rosemary Fisher
Miss Grace Woody

IN APRIL the group gave a tumbling and modern dance convocation with Jan Fleming as head of the stunts and tumbling and Ingeborg Weck leading the modern dance.

Highlighting all of the year's events for W. A. A. was the twenty-second annual banquet honoring the graduating seniors of the group. The banquet was held in Lucina Hall where sweaters were awarded to a number of the members. Although Miss Woody, one of the organization's sponsors, was away this year, the girls followed her trip around the world with interest.

SPONSOR

Dr. P. D. Edwards

THE Mathematics Club was organized to help the student create and maintain an interest in mathematics, to promote good fellowship, and to consider mathematical interests in a broader way than the class work permits. The club is open to all mathematics students.

Programs were presented by student members, ex-servicemen, who showed the relationship and the uses of mathematics in their particular fields, namely: meteorology, air navigation, sea navigation, and ballistics. Other activities included a Christmas party, a spring picnic, and a joint meeting with Sigma Zeta to hear Dr. H. B. Haas of Purdue University.

REKAMEMOH CLUB

OFFICERS

President — Rosalie Glesing
Vice-president — Marjorie Miller
Secretary — Ruth Smith

Treasurer — Geneva Daily
Membership Chairman — Doris Biberstine

SPONSORS

Miss Mary Beeman
Miss Mildred Johnson

REKAMEMOH stands for "homemaker." The purpose of the organization is to create and maintain an interest in home economics and to promote a spirit of fellowship among students interested in home economics.

Activities for the year included a supper at Indiana General Service Community Room, a talk by a Ball State graduate who has spent several years in India as a missionary, a tea at Miss Mary Beeman's, and a party in honor of the seniors.

LA TERTULIA

OFFICERS

President — Charles Spittall
Vice-president — Joan Rector
Secretary — Mary Huber

Treasurer — Larry Carlson
Recorder — Marjorie Seldomridge

SPONSOR

Dr. Vivienne Bey

THE revival of La Tertulia was effected at the beginning of the fall quarter with twice-monthly meetings. The group's aims were to promote interest in Spanish-speaking countries and to better their understanding of the culture of those peoples.

At the supper meetings, followed by business or social programs, as an aid to conversational Spanish, guests from Latin-American countries were invited to speak. Slides and movies were shown by the club members who led discussions regarding the customs and governments of our Spanish-speaking neighbors. Spanish dances, songs, and games formed a part of the social program.

LATIN CLUB

OFFICERS

President — Norene Megenity
Vice-president — Doris Edrington
Secretary — Ellen Dutton
Treasurer — John Richardson

ORGANIZATION of Latin Club was for the purpose of supplementing class work. This year the group chose "Roman Mythology" as the topic around which the meetings were built. Regular meetings sponsored lectures, group discussions, demonstrations, and social gatherings. The Christmas party theme was the Roman Saturnalia, and the Christmas story was read to the club in Latin.

INDEPENDENT STUDENT ASSOCIATION

THE Independent Student Association was organized by independent students during the early days of October, 1946, for the promotion of school spirit, school loyalty, and good citizenship both on and off the campus.

Although the organization is young, among the distinctions accorded to its members in the first year of existence were the election of two of its members to offices in the freshman class, and the choice of Homecoming Queen from its ranks.

The Independent Student Association has held numerous social events for the independent students on the campus throughout the 1946-1947 school year. Any student who is not affiliated with a social fraternity or sorority on the campus is eligible for membership in this group.

THE Graduate Club was organized on the Ball State campus in September, 1946, for the purpose of furthering the professional and social interests of those students working to meet the requirements for the Master of Arts degree. The club meets twice each month in the homes and as guests of various instructors and graduate students.

RESIDENCE HALLS

LUCINA HALL

RESIDENTS of Lucina Hall have many happy memories of various activities engaged in during the year such as house meetings, pajama parties, spreads, study sessions, jam sessions, afternoon teas, and dates. The former Elliott Hall girls moved to Lucina this year, making the present residents number about three hundred girls.

Highlights on the social calendar were the annual Christmas candlelight processional, the annual faculty tea in January, and "Lucina Scandals," a talent show, given in March. The girls acted as foster-parents to an English child, Yvonne Furtunn, a victim of the war.

The director of Lucina Hall, Mrs. Thelma Miller, was assisted by Mrs. Letha Miller and Mrs. Mary Myers. Officers for the year were president, Betty Polen; vice-president, Jacqueline Little; secretary, Ruth Smith; and treasurer, Maxine Stafford. Those who served as chairmen of permanent committees were Barbara Halfaker, social planning; Mary Frances Patterson, courtesy; Maxine Stafford, budget; June Hunt, publications; Sara Garner, music; Peg Manis, bulletin board; Marian Walkowiac, scrap book; Marjorie Steed, teas. Corridor chairmen were Ruth Davis, Gloria Dill, Virginia Ann Hutchens, June Jackson, Patricia Kelly, Florence Kettler, Eva Kiewitt, Rebecca Meyncke, Dorothy Vance, and Mary Ann Wolsiefer.

FRANK ELLIOTT BALL HALL

FRANK Elliott Ball Hall, a gift of the Ball Brothers Foundation, was erected in 1937 and 1938 in memory of Frank Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Ball.

This year the rooms on first, second, and third floors were rearranged and re-equipped to house three men in each room. The fourth floor was reconverted to house forty men. In addition to this provision for the greater number of men on campus, the Frank Elliott Ball Hall Annex has been built in back of the Hall. There were four Federal Project Housing Administration buildings partitioned into four apartments each with accommodations for four men in each apartment.

The House Organization, drawn up early in the year, promoted activities and discussed problems. There was an informal Christmas party just before vacation, magazines and newspapers were purchased, and money was donated to the World Student Service Fund drive. The girls who had lived in Elliott Hall in 1945 and 1946 contributed funds toward a combination radio-phonograph purchased this year.

BLUE KEY

INACTIVE since June 1943, due to the war, the Ball State Chapter of Blue Key National Honor Fraternity, membership in which is based on scholarship, character, and leadership, was reactivated in August of 1946. At that time, four returning Blue Key veterans, Clarence Buesking, Charles Bushong, D. Loren Carmichael, and Howard Thrall, met with Dr. Ralph Noyce, dean of the college and chapter sponsor, to effect the reorganization. Clarence Buesking and Charles Bushong, the only two returning in the fall, were chosen acting president and acting secretary-treasurer respectively. Four men, Robert Andrews, Charles Ferguson, Delmar Lewis, and Walter Pearson, were initiated into Blue Key before the end of the summer.

With the beginning of the fall term, two more Blue Key veterans, Francis Carpenter and Wayne Mellott, returned to the campus. Subsequently, seven more men were initiated and the following officers were selected: president, Clarence Buesking; vice-president, Robert Linson; secretary, Dwain Small; SEC representative, Robert Rhoda.

During the two-day freshman orientation period preceding registration, members of the chapter served as proctors for the administration of freshman tests and operated an information tent on campus for the assistance of the newcomers. At the first postwar Ball State Homecoming, members of the chapter were responsible for the management of the theater rush and for the sale of Homecoming programs at the football game.

With the cooperation of the Blue Key Chapter at Indiana State, the tradition of giving the Victory Bell to the winner of the annual football game was revived. On February 14, the annual Blue Key Sweetheart Dance was held. At the end of the winter quarter, six more men were initiated into membership and Walter Pearson and Dwain Small were elected president and vice-president, respectively, replacing Clarence Buesking and Robert Linson, who completed their undergraduate work at that time. In the spring quarter, as a part of a campus service program, Blue Key sponsored a Campus Guide Service for the purpose of conducting visitors around the campus.

THE objectives of Delta Phi Delta, national art fraternity, are to foster art interest among colleges; to bring art departments of various schools together; to stimulate higher scholarship; to recognize potential professional ability; to develop professional art interest; and to stimulate and develop art interests at large.

Delta Phi Delta completed successfully this year many outstanding activities. The Delta Phi Delta National Convention was held last summer at Albuquerque, New Mexico. Miss Trane and Frances Shearer attended with Jamesetta Ray as representatives. The homecoming breakfast was held October 12, at Royal Oaks. A Christmas dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Brown for members and guests of the group.

Delta Phi Delta sponsored the decorations for the annual Christmas Music Convocation for which a stained glass window was constructed. The group also sponsored a sale of Blenko hand-blown glass and Campbell Wood carvings for faculty and students.

The event of the spring term was the Founder's Day Banquet at which new officers were installed.

DEVLOPING personalities conducive to leadership, promoting and giving recognition to high scholarship, and fostering professional work within the department of home economics are some of the purposes of Theta Sigma.

This year, in working toward these goals, Theta Sigma again helped sponsor an all-day program for the seniors in the high schools in surrounding counties. The program gives the girls an opportunity to visit the campus under guided tours. Theta Sigma girls have been given an opportunity to help with the decorative plans for the new home economics department. Many interesting and informative talks have been given during the year by outstanding persons.

ONE of the oldest sororities on the Ball State campus, the Beta chapter of Gamma Gamma was organized in 1920 as a sister to the Alpha chapter of Indiana State. The sorority has had as its purposes through these years the furthering of true sisterly love, the stimulation of good fellowship of all, and the maintenance of high scholarships.

Among the activities sponsored by Gamma Gamma this year was the annual Christmas formal dance. On May 2, a minstrel show was presented, the proceeds of which were donated to the Harry Mock School. Other highlights of the sorority included a progressive dinner, rush parties, pledge parties, a Mother's Day breakfast, and the annual farewell party for the graduating members.

THE BETA chapter of Omega Sigma Chi was founded in 1923 with the purpose of not only uniting its members in a spirit of cooperation and fraternalism, but also lending its support to the fine ideals of the school. Omegas have encouraged among members an excellent standard of scholarship and social participation.

Activities were many and varied during the year with each month having a social function: theatre party, scavenger hunt, spaghetti dinner, picnic, alumnae party, and numerous other interests. The sorority sponsored a rummage sale also, and a formal banquet for the seniors climaxed the social activities for the school year.

IN 1925 the Beta chapter of Psi Theta was founded on the Ball State campus. The purpose of Psi Theta is social, with its design to make college life more happy and beneficial, and to encourage friendship among the girls.

The parties for members and alumnae were numerous during the year, beginning with rush and continuing with Homecoming and many other events. Outstanding function for the year was the closed dance, "Blue Rain," which was held in the Y.W.C.A. ballroom on January 24. The spring term brought forth many informal parties and the annual senior breakfast. Donations were given by the sorority to the Community Chest and to the World Student Service Fund.

TRIANGLE

THE Triangle Club was founded in 1922 with the forwarding of three ideals in mind; namely, service, loyalty, and fellowship. In June, 1944, the Triangle Club was forced to disband and become inactive for the duration. In the fall of 1945, several alumni set up arrangements for the reorganization of the Club. This year the Triangles numbered approximately eighty actives. This year also found the Triangle Club celebrating their Silver Anniversary — twenty-five years of good fellowship.

Officers for the spring quarter were Ted Sell, president; Dan Diadiun, vice-president; and Judson Betts, secretary. Winter quarter officers were Mel Perretti, president; Dick Riser, vice-president; Robert Hoffer, secretary. Officers serving throughout the year were Don Howell, treasurer, and Alfred S. Rossetter, pledge-master.

THE ORIENT

IN THESE pages, we have said almost everything . . . except that any long hours and hard work in this book will be well rewarded if you enjoy the 1947 Orient. Confidentially, we had a wonderful time getting this book together, meeting all of you on campus, taking pictures, pasting them in the book, writing stories to record this year at Ball State, selling ads and books, visiting engravers, printers, and photographers. There have been times when we have mistakenly written to you asking for information which had been sent to us, and you were understanding about it. Our apologies and thanks. Those of us on the staff have organized this Orient and gathered the material, but it was the willing hands of organizations' officers, sponsors, and many individuals who furnished us with the material and gathered together to have pictures made for the annual.

To our sponsors, we especially want to bring attention. Mrs. Sharley B. DeMotte was our constant aid on the editorial staff, and Mr. Basil Swinford was always available to the business staff. When Mr. Swinford was away, Dr. Vernal Carmichael filled his shoes. In addition to this group, Dr. John Shackford and Dr. Willard Skidmore have added their efforts this year. To all of you, our "thanks."

BALL STATE NEWS

A CHARTER member of the National Collegiate Press Association, The Ball State News, college publication, is published once a week during the school year. The four-page, six-column newspaper appears every Friday, carrying news of the faculty, students, sororities, fraternities, clubs, and everyday campus happenings.

Staff cooperation is the medium by which The News reaches the citizens of Ball State. Cooperation of the staff and advisors have been the contributing factor in the recognition of The News as a several time winner of first-class rating in the National Collegiate Press Association. Subscription fees for The News are included in the term's contingent fees.

Serving as editor-in-chief in the fall, for the fifth consecutive term, was Adeline Brumbaugh. Charles Ferguson as managing editor; Geraldine Demaree, Jean Lung, and Leroy Hull as assistant editors for the fall term.

News editor for the fall term was Doris Edrington; society editor Dorothy Ashley. Olive Martinson garnered feature material for The News in the capacity of feature editor. Dick Doversberger, sports editor, aided by Bob Linson, assistant sports editor, and Jack Quinn, sports writer, wrote the Cardinal and White sport records. Women's sports endeavors were described for The News by Bonnie Brownell.

Exchange editor for the fall term was Clara Lou Stuttler. Editing copy was accomplished by Eloise Blackwood, Anne Streeter, June Hannah, Merrill Crisler, and also by those staff members who worked in major positions. Marianne Lauterbur, Jean Lung, Walter Riggs, Anne Streeter, Doris Shank, and Marjorie Steed served as feature writers.

Gerald Demaree, who became editor-in-chief at the beginning of the winter term, appointed Adeline Brumbaugh as managing editor; Jean Lung as assistant editor; Doris Edrington as news editor, and Walter Riggs as assistant news editor. Social activities were written by Joyce Mackey, while Eloise Blackwood assumed the duties of feature editor.

Bob Linson, sports editor, aided by Harry Forse, assistant sports editor, covered the campus sport beat for the winter term. June Hunt, as women's sports editor, wrote concerning the feminine sports interests. Betty Lou Craig served as exchange editor.

Alice Owens, Barbara Sue Reidy, Betty Lou Craig, Marianne Lauterbur, and Eva Kiewitt worked in the capacity of copy editors during the winter term. Feature writers were Doris Shank, Olive Martinson, Marianne Lauterbur, Anne Streeter, and Marjorie Steed. Martha Sue McFadden was typist.

BUSINESS STAFF

First row: Rosemary Blankman, Caroline Reynolds, Doris Ring, Anna Hitchcock, Marjorie Harrison.
Second row: Dick Cotter, Gene Bennett, Vilas Wood, Merrill Dailey, Mark Love.

Continuing her duties as editor-in-chief for the spring term, Mrs. Demaree appointed Jean Lung and Joyce Mackey as assistant editors. Eva Kiewitt and Paul Ashley were appointed news editor and assistant news editor, respectively. Newly-appointed society editor was Charline Hastings. Eloise Blackwood continued her duties as feature editor.

Barbara Sue Reidy, Alice Owens, Marianne Lauterbur, June Hannah, Joan Harrington, Martha Sue McFadden, Eleanor Piwinski, Doris Shank, Bob Stassen, and Jim Hayden were copy editors during the spring term. Feature writers were Olive Martinson, Anne Streeter, June Hunt, and Marianne Lauterbur.

If it were not for the cooperation of the business staff, The News would not be a successful campus publication. Rosemary Blankman served as business manager of The News for the fall and winter terms. J. Mark Love succeeded Miss Blankman as business manager at the beginning of the spring term.

Office manager for the fall and winter terms was Barbara Halfaker. Advertising manager was J. Mark Love. Gene Bennett, Jane Ann Raisor, Martha Gable, J. Mark Love, Barbara Halfaker, Tom Sample, Doris Jones, and Martha Hays were advertising solicitors for the fall term. Circulation manager was Maribeth Antcliff, assisted by Wilma Davidson, Ruby Schram, Joan Touby, Anna Hitchcock, Doris Ring, Annabelle Little, Jane Masin, Marilyn Lunghi, and Lorna Mae Fogel. Bookkeepers were Berl Walradth, Elizabeth Tone, and Donald Gebhard.

Continuing as advertising manager for the winter term was J. Mark Love, assisted by Gene Bennett. Circulation manager was Clara Lou Stuttler, assisted by Maribeth Antcliff, Wilma Davidson, Anna Hitchcock, William L. Hopkins, Doris Ring, Ruby Schram, and Annabelle Little. Bookkeepers were Berl Walradth, Roy Wiperman, and Bill Stewart.

For the spring term, Mr. Love appointed Gene Bennett as office manager. Advertising solicitors were Marjorie Harrison, Joan Rector, and Emmert Hurley. Circulation manager was Doris Ring, whose assistants were Carolyn Reynolds, Wilma Davidson, Delores Addison, Dick Cotter, Maribeth Antcliff, and Annabelle Little. Bookkeepers were Merrill Dailey, Robert Stewart, and Vilas Wood.

Mrs. Sharley B. DeMotte has capably directed and advised the editorial staff of The News since 1925. Credit is also due Mr. Basil M. Swinford, who has given guidance to the business staff.

"B" BOOK

WHETHER you're hunting for the words to the pep song, the date the Gym was built, how late the library stays open, or merely the telephone number of the girl who sits next to you in psych., you can rely upon the "B" Book.

This pocket-size student handbook and directory is a publication of the Y.W.C.A. and Y. M. C.A. It is usually published early in the fall term, but was later this year because of the greatly increased enrollment.

Inside the red and white cover of this year's book was listed the school history, basketball and football schedules, traditions, buildings, departmental and honorary organizations, church directory, Ball State student directory, and faculty directories for both Ball State and Burris.

The staff for this year included June Jackson, editor; Thomas Sample, business manager; Nell Young and Mel Perretti; and advisor, Miss Martha Wickham.

AQUATICUS

"Sea Shadows" was the theme of the eighth annual aquaticus this year. Student directors of the water ballet were Barbara Dietrich and Frances Miller. John Lewellen and Martha Charnock served as faculty coordinators.

Among the numbers presented were several formation and tandem swimming combinations including "Rose Dawn," "Sea Stars," "Blue Lagoon," "Twilight Palms," "Chieftains Delight," "Study in Drums," "Island Moon," "Wing Songs," and the "Aloha" finale.

STUDENT PRODUCTIONS

"OUR TOWN"

THE oriental sparseness of property left some spectators startled and others deeply impressed, but those who saw this play, Thornton Wilder's "Our Town," will long remember the many fine performances. Outstanding among them were Marty Willman's "Emily Webb," Jim Mittingly's "Stage Manager," the Gibbs family of Ed Langas, M. A. Kerns, Howard Miller, and June DeWood; the Webb family, Lyn Downing, George Meguiar, and Bob Pursley. This play was another production created by the efforts of Spotlight Club's entire membership.

STUDENT PRODUCTIONS

SOROYAN's "Beautiful People" was tenderly portrayed in Spotlight's production last year. Ann Crapo's fine performance of the daughter, "St. Agnes of the Mice," was matched by the others in the cast, Warren Blackman, the teen-aged boy; their father, John Plummer; Adolf Kerber, declining Dan Hillboy; Paul Baker, Joan Saunders, Ben Janney, Bob Rothhaar, and Harry Harmon.

BALL STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

Fully Accredited

MEMBER OF

American Association of Teachers Colleges

Placed on Approral List

Association of American Universities

AND

American Association of University Women

This State college offers courses leading to life licenses for Superintendents, Principals, High School Teachers, Counselors, Supervisors, Elementary Teachers, and students on pre-professional courses. Work leading to the Master of Arts degree in Education is offered, in addition to the four-year college course. Ball Memorial Hospital and the college are affiliated in the training of nurses.

Special attractions for the two 1947 summer terms include workshops, clinics, institutes, concerts, dramatics, a recreational arts program, eminent speakers, and field trips to Mexico and the Gaspé region.

Students who wish to become master teachers in subject matter fields will find new graduate courses offered in business education, English, foreign languages, industrial arts, mathematics, music, science, and social science.

Elementary teachers have gained new recognition in assurance of positions, increased salaries, and an awakened public interest. A definite shortage of teachers still exists; therefore, to meet the demand, outstanding high school students should be encouraged to enter the teaching field. The demand increases the opportunities.

Ball State is a growing institution. The college had an almost phenomenal growth until men entered the armed services. With the servicemen returning, the enrollment has more than doubled; and another definite increase is expected in the fall quarter. Plans for additional buildings to take care of the expansion have been made, and housing problems are being solved for next fall. The campus has been increased to more than 140 acres, several of which are a natural forested area. To take care of the additional enrollment, the faculty has been increased to more than 150.
